

Welcome to the RSA Learning Lab!

- Exercises for this lab are located in c:\users\student\exercises\security
- The documentation for each exercise is open, and is also in the directory for each exercise
- Two command prompts are open:
 - One has the command to run the rtiddspy debugging (sniffer) application
 - The other is set up in the location where we expect to sign files for this exercise
- Notepad++ is installed, and is a good way to edit text files
- Wireshark is installed, and can be used to view the data in the exercises
